

The Last Stand

5th-9th September

Moora Performing Arts Centre

Open daily Wed-Sun 10-5pm (Sun 9th 10-2pm)

Highlighting the wonders & woes of wheatbelt wildflower country

A free to attend community awareness event

The Last Stand Symposium

Wednesday 5th September

- * Carmen Lawrence (Conservation Council) "Why should we bother about the bush in the wheatbelt?"
- * Tony Hughes-d'Aeth (UWA) "The Wheatbelt: A Literary History of Environmental Change"
- * Malcolm French "Preserving the Farm Asset Value"
- * Eddy Wajon (Wildflower Society) "Watching our Wheatbelt Wildflower Wonders – Will We Win or Weep?"
- * Yued community "Yued Boodja"
- * Paul Barbor (Arbor carbon) "Wheatbelt rail reserve management"
- * Adam Peck - (Birdlife) "Will our Carnaby's survive in the wheatbelt"
- * Rob Boase (Landcare volunteer winner 2017) "Our Biodiversity Crisis"
- * Aaron Gove (Astron) "Agroforestry to Support Wheatbelt Biodiversity"
- * Jenny Borger (Wheatbelt flora advisor) "The unique vegetation complexes on rocky hills in the wheatbelt: description, management and restoration "
- * Declan Doherty (Environmental Defenders Office) "What's wrong with the environmental laws?"

When: Wednesday 5th September 2018

Where: Moora Performing Arts Centre, Padbury St, Moora

Time: 9:45am onwards. Catering provided

RSVP: <http://www.moorecatchment.org.au/events/category/upcoming-events/>

Or contact Moore Catchment Council moorecc@bigpond.com or 9653 1355 for more info

This event has been organised by Moore Catchment Council and a number of concerned community members from around the region.

This event has been funded through the generosity of the speakers appearing plus the below organisations natural resource management program

lotterywest supported