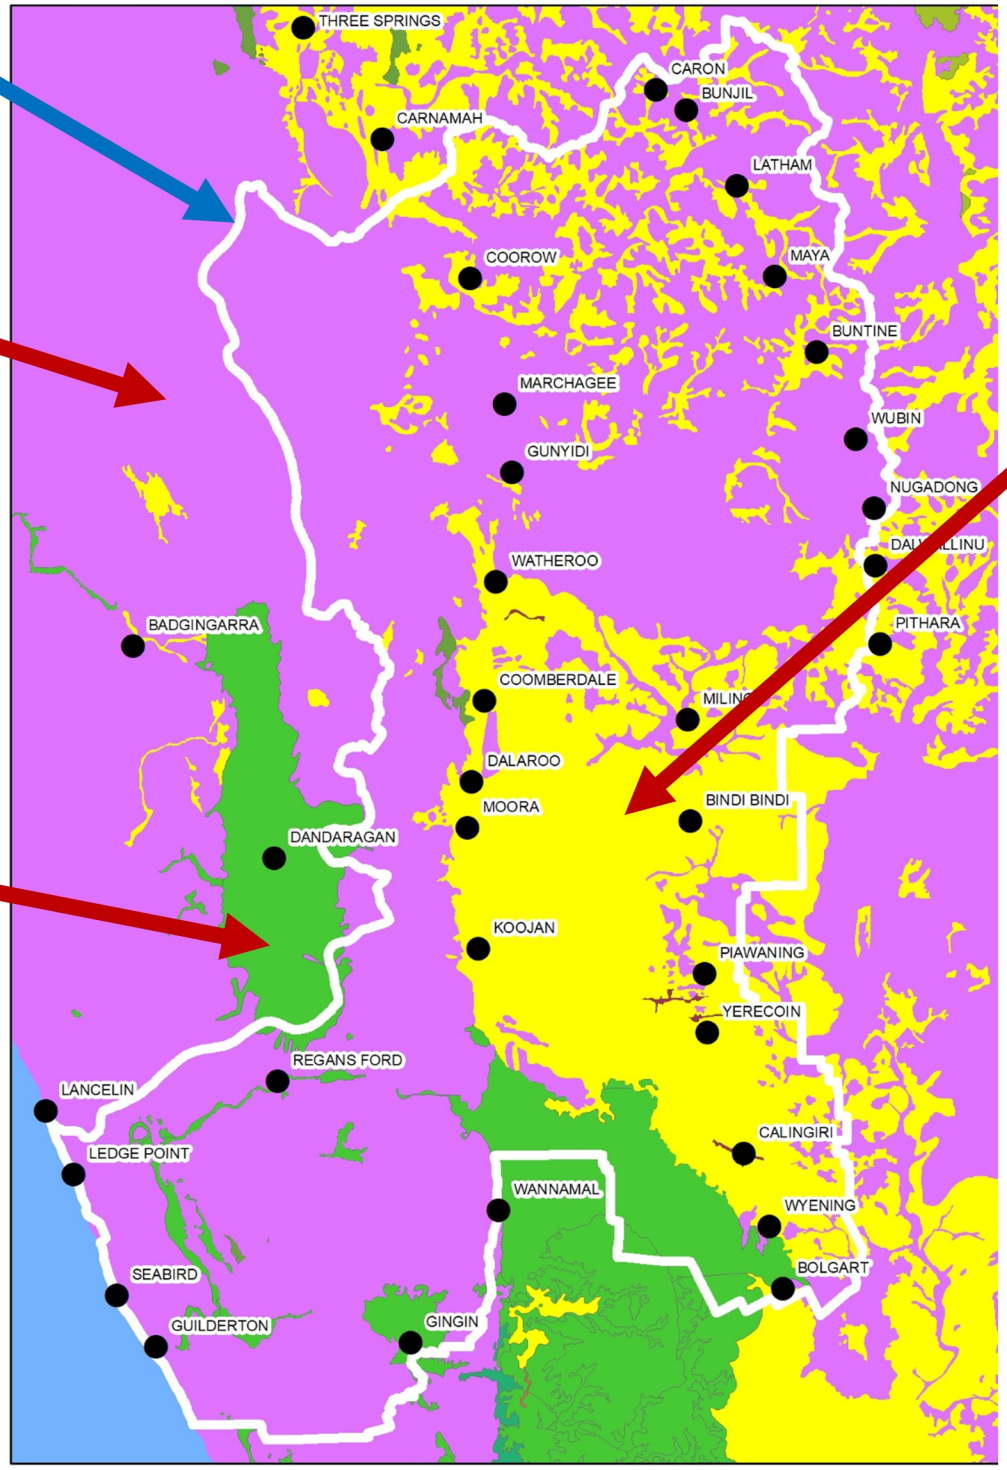
Moore River Catchment

Pink Carnaby forage habitat - Banksia sandplain, Kwongan heathland, shrubland

Green Marri and Wandoo woodlands (with Jarrah & Tuart in south) - some Carnaby breeding habitat (Wandoo), good forage and roosting habitat



Remnant vegetation for Carnaby's Black Cockatoo

Yellow Prime Carnaby breeding habitat - Salmon Gum and Wandoo woodland.

Carnaby's actively return to these areas in winter/ spring to breed.

The western edge ie Moora is especially important as it is directly next to forage areas to feed and raise chicks

Help the Carnaby's by

- Planting breeding & forage habitat & erecting artificial nests in breeding areas only
- Planting forage & roosting habitat in forage areas
